The move required an adjustment, but I'm still able to find the same information just as easily.

The spreadsheets are always very small when I open them. Also - could the data be housed in HTML, rather than downloading a spreadsheet? I'd prefer to go to a website and review the data instead of downloading it.

Generally, the Fact Book has the information that I need. In the past, however, when departments have done their "academic program reviews," I've noticed there's been information asked in the review that isn't tracked anywhere on campus, i.e., #s of minors, other demographic data about students, etc. I'm not sure it needs to be in the Face Book, but it ought to be kept somewhere.
